OPPORTUNITY QUILT

Opportunity quilt will be finished by the meeting. Packets ready, if Iva's gets tickets printed in time.

--Gina and Cyndy.

PROGRAMS

As final preparations are made for the 2024 Hannibal Piecemakers Quilt Show, Sharon Wastenev will share some thoughts to make the most of your experience to enjoy ALL the quilts regardless of style or color or design.

The May program will focus on the ways we can share our quilting stories with family and friends including personal interviews of local quilters.

MUSEUM EXHIBIT

Don't forget to send me your entries for our May/June 2024 exhibit at the Missouri Quilt Museum or bring your form to the April meeting. I will have the forms and more details at the meeting.

Hope you have seen the posts from the museum related to the Kelly Cline curated exhibit of vintage-themed quilts. It will be wonderful to have our quilts hanging at the same time as an exhibit that is proving to be very popular with quilters.--Sharon Wastenev

NEXT MEETING:

April 2, 2024 -- 6 p.m.

KC Hall

PROGRAM:

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

Sandra Nix lives in Palmyra and is retired.

She has been quilting for 19 years and piecing is her favorite part of the quilt making process. Sandra named a couple of people who influenced her quilting journey. First, her great-grandmother who quilted quilts on a treadle sewing machine, and Diane Garman who worked in a quilt shop.

Sandra follows a number of quilting personalities and YouTube channels including, Stitched by Susan, Bold Notions, Lori Holt, Posh Paper Lady, Bethadilly, Jennifer Maker, RBD Designs, Power Tools with Thread, 3 Yard Quilts, Missouri Star Quilt Company, Donna Jordan quilt tutorials, and Natalia Bonner.

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

Georgia Short lives in Hannibal. She writes, "My interest in sewing came from my grandmother.

Very young, I 'helped' her sew by standing behind the machine and pushing the treadle. From there I took sewing in school. In the late 60's-80's I cross stitched baby quilts for family and friends. I tied them. In the late 80's I started piecing quilts. I took a couple of classes at Sew Fro Sewing Center. I joined HPQG in 94-95. That's where I really learned to quilt. Rosetta Cripe was always ready to help with problems and questions. I held three positions in the Guild--President, Secretary, and Librarian.

I remain a traditional quilter. Eleanor Burns is probably my favorite teacher. I attended several of her workshops. My favorite fabrics are Thimbleberries, Kansas Troubles, and 30's reproduction fabrics. I enjoy all the quilting tools and am sure glad we have them. I also enjoy my family and church."

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

Sandy Werr lives in Shelbyville, MO and is retired from teaching. She has been quilting for 25 years.

Sandy's favorite part of quilting is piecing. Sandy writes, "When I was little, I'd visit my next-door neighbor who I called 'Grandma'. She always had a quilt frame up in the living room and I loved to watch her and sit under the quilt on the frame."

Edyta Sitar and Deb Tucker are some of Sandy's favorite quilting personalities. Papercrafts, reading and gardening are other interests she enjoys.
