Gina's communiqué

October - one of the prettiest months of the year with the changing of the leaves. We are also voting on the changing of our officers and committees and have presented an amazing new slate for 2024. I'm so excited for the upcoming year. We still need workers for the Folk Life Festival and remember to turn in your tickets and money at the meeting or at the booth. There's still time to finish your December A-maze-ing Challenge. -- Gina

TIP: Design your quilts to please yourself. Don't be afraid to break the rules. Patterns are only suggestions. Use colors and fabrics that please you!

COMMUNITY GIVING UPDATE

It's very important that we have 100% participation in Community Giving in 2023. At this time, 40 out of 73 members have completed their community giving projects. Be sure to let the committee know if you have made a donation, even if it is to another charity other than those we have listed. This is a requirement of your membership. Please turn in your projects by December. If you are uncertain if you completed this, call Barbara Bier at 573-231-9597. Thanks, Linda Bier, Barbara Bier, Sandy Nix and Debbie Conley

SUPPLY LIST FOR WORKSHOP

OCTOBER 28, 2023

- 2 coordinating or complementary fat quarters for weaving (fabrics A and B)
- 1 fat quarter for backing
- ¼ yard for binding
- 1 yd paperbacked fusible at least 17" wide (I do not recommend Steam-A-Seam for this project)
- 24" x 24" piece of batting
- Optional embellishments—fussy cut applique motifs or fabric that can be used for that purpose, decorative threads (Sharon will have a variety for participant use)
- Basic sewing supplies including marking pencil, sewing machine, pins, rotary cutter and mat (16" x 24"), 18" or 24" ruler, iron and surface for ironing (the larger wool pressing mat works well)

(You will need batting and backing to work on this project.)

OPPORTUNITY QUILT AND FOLKLIFE FESTIVAL

Thank you to all who have turned in the chance tickets and money so far. If you need more tickets to sell, see me at the meeting. Please try and have all chances and money turned in to me at the October meeting. We will be giving the opportunity quilt away on Sunday, October 22, at 4 pm.

The Folk Life Festival is Saturday, October 21 and 22. Our booth is in front of the Hickory Stick. You will have to dress in a long skirt or appropriate era attire. If you don't have anything like that, there are full cover aprons in our supplies in the tent. If you have some hand stitching, you may bring that along to work on as you are selling chance tickets.

I will be passing around at the September and October meetings a sign up sheet to work on Saturday or Sunday. Each shift worked will get you a chance for a drawing at the November meeting for the wall hanging of our opportunity quilt. Also, the highest sellers of the chance tickets will also get prizes. -- Thanks, Sue Ann Winking
