Gina's communiqué

November is the start of the holiday months, spending time with family and friends. It is also the time where we start thinking and planning for the next year. I have been thinking of a few ideas for next year and would like to put a block of the month in our newsletter so we will have a sampler quilt at the end of the year. I also saw a guild post about a share table, where you bring items that you no longer want, but if it doesn't go home with someone you will need to take it back with you. If you have any ideas that you think would be something fun to do, please let me know. Just a reminder to bring your fur coats for the program. -- Gina
