Gina's communiqué

The November attendance question and program was about trendy tools. Cindy's response that a friend was her favorite tool. I would have to agree and wish I would have thought of that. This made me reflect on the past 30 years as a member of the guild and all the friends I've made and have gleaned so much wisdom from each person's unique perspective on quilting and many other subjects, too. I hope I have many more years to make many more friends and memories and continue to learn new ways and ideas. Happy holidays and a blessed New Year to all! Gina

TIP: Try to keep an open mind about everything, not always easy but a rewarding goal to strive for.

Countdown to the holidays begins! Instead of a meal, we are having holiday cookie treats. Bring two dozen holiday cookies for our enjoyment plus a cookie exchange. The program committee will have hot chocolate and hot tea with embellishments to go with. You also need to bring a container to take home a variety of cookies. Don't forget the challenge, A-mazing, is due with prizes awarded. To end the evening we'll be playing Fabric Bingo. Bring as many fabric bingo cards as you wish with buttons or other markers. (Instructions for making your card was in the November newsletter.) Again, there will be prizes.

please include a note by the plate of cookies. Thanks!

If you are bringing cookies that contain an allergen like peanut butter or peanuts (or any others),
